
Window-limited extrema require complete seasonal windows. No value is inferred across a missing window. Current completed windows are descriptive; trend table uses the common complete-year endpoint.